Cattle found infected with bovine tuberculosis will be destroyed and owners compensated under the act. The work will probably be carried out during the coming spring and summer.

Establishment of a Pure Breed Sire area in the district is more uncertain the Board was informed by Mr. Fontaine. From the petitions signed so far it is not as certain that the required percentage will be obtained but the outcome will not be known until all petitions have been received and checked. Canvassing was still proceeding with these petitions it was reported.

In the discussion on control measures and their importance to livestock men in the district, the District Agriculturist pointed out the serious hazard in the incidence of Bang's Disease among cattle. To check the hazard of the high losses to cattlemen from this disease, Mr. Fontaine recommended that the Board take action to encourage cattle owners to have all calves vaccinated against the infection.

Specimen to Show Rat and Muskrat Different Beasts

MORINVILLE — Do you know what a rat looks like?

Few natives of Alberta have ever seen a rat and even settlers in the province from other parts of the world not so favored by freedom from this pest may never have seen enough of them to recognize one quickly. Many people seeing a rat for the first time are likely to mistake it for a muskrat, say agricultural officials.

The agricultural industry in other provinces and many states in the U.S. sustains millions of dollars worth of loss a year from the voracity of this world-wide pest. To preserve the present immunity of this province to this danger, residents of rural districts have been warned to be on constant watch for the appearance of rats in their vicinities.

The Morinville Agricultural Service Board and the district agriculturist, J. M. Fontaine, are seeking the co-operation of all persons in the district for a vigilant guard against intrusion of the pest into this region. To assist the Board has arranged with the Agriculturist to have a preserved rat displayed at different points in the municipality, so that all residents may be able to recognize the enemy.

Any person seeing a rat should immediately notify District Agriculturist Fontaine or Field Supervisor Walter Elliwett, so that extermination activities can be undertaken at once.

IN A TENSE MOMENT are Deborah Kerr and Stewart Granger, stars of the MGM film cast who travelled 25,000 miles around deepest Africa to produce the thrilling "King Solomon's Mines." Thousands of natives were employed in the picture and many thousand wild animals cross their path during this daring safari.

Mr. H. B. Robinson has been ill in the local hospital the past few days, his many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

A very enjoyable time was had at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Moffat in honor of their second wedding anniversary when friends and relatives gathered to wish them many more years of happiness. The evening was spent at games and cards and a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Moffat, Sr.

The Clyde Students Union held a high school party in the Clyde Community Hall on Friday evening when they entertained the Legal Student's Union and Teachers, who chaperoned them here in a large school van. Approximately 35 guests attended from Legal and there were other invited guests from Clyde. The evening was spent in games and dancing and a talent show in which several Legal students participated. The Clyde students who took part in the program were: Miss Hazel Olson who sang "Let The Rest of the World Go By," Lester Bishop sang a cowboy song and Jack Langford played a piano solo. Refreshments were served by the social committee.

On Saturday afternoon a very successful tea and sale of home cooking was held in the new Community Library where visitors could view the interior of the library. Serving were Mrs. Donald McLachlan, Mrs. R. Tainah, Mrs. L. Newcombe and Mrs. G. Siegle. Over thirty five dollars were received to go to the library fund.

The new president is LeRoy Coley and vice-president is Jack Langford, secretary is Lorraine Newcombe. Miss Daphne Garrison of Westlock was a visitor at the meeting. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Magas.

Mr. Douglas Curran arrived here last week from Ottawa to join his wife and infant son.

Friends gathered on Sunday to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Julian Krakiwsky on their wedding anniversary. Their son Eddy presented them with a beautiful anniversary cake.

The Board of Trade

In some communities the Board of Trade is labelled "Chamber of Commerce". We don't like this designation, particularly in Alberta, because the really important part of any Alberta organization is the part shared by district farmers. Commerce makes us think in terms of shopkeepers only, but trade is universal. Without help of the farm group most Boards of Trade or Chambers of Commerce don't amount to much.

There should be one important annual meeting, a full-dress dinner meeting with members and their wives (and husbands), after dinner speaker and a short period of entertainment. The University of Alberta supplies interesting film subjects. This is followed by reports from various committees and election of executive.

The executive should be the working, driving force that gets things done. Big attendance or small attendance at monthly general meetings doesn't make much difference—unless there's a hard core of executive stalwarts who will carry the load and provide the initiative in every worth-while endeavor.

Activities suitable for Board of Trade work include calf and grain clubs, summer fairs and rodeos, sport days, public libraries, recreation centres, promotion of hockey and baseball teams and leagues and many other positive works.

Most Alberta Boards of Trade would be well advised to take a leaf from the book of the Killam and District Board of Trade. This group is "tops" in Board of Trade work. Groups interested in using a successful Board as a pattern should write to Edward Fee, Jr., Killam, secretary of the Killam Board of Trade.

40-hour Farm Week?

The Saskatchewan government blames Mr. Gardiner for the decline in hog production in that province. Mr. Gardiner replies that the fault lies entirely with the province's own Socialist government. But a Saskatchewan farmer tells us that he quit raising hogs because he couldn't do it working a forty-hour week.

Although this editorial is headed in such a way as to indicate we might be suggesting a 40-hour week on the farm, nothing could be more ridiculous. If the average Alberta farmer were to work only 8 hours a day, five days a week, we daresay the agriculture production would drop by one-third. This would make farm produce so scarce the price would climb by nearly 50 per cent.

The city worker would then have to work 60 hours per week to earn enough money just to be able to eat.

Hon. George Prudham advocates establishment of a 44- or 48-hour week in Canadian industry to combat inflation and assist in our defence effort. Only by doing more work can we maintain our standard of living in the face of higher taxes due to the Korean war and unsettled world conditions.

Liberty of the Gospel

The teaching of and about Jesus Christ, so widely known throughout the world and yet so little understood by so many people, are essentially teachings of freedom and liberty. The Christian faith calls for no self-abasement and bodily torture as do many of the pagan and primitive teachings of other religions. The Gospel of Christ is a Gospel of Love, that leaves the individual free to accept or reject it.

This freedom, therefore, is a cherished liberty. The Christian is bound to his Master only by the "chords of love." Compulsion implies hate; imprisonment and enslavement mean resentment.

The follower of Jesus Christ, whether he or she has devoted her whole working life to the Gospel or is simply a devotee in secular employment, is held by the bonds of free will.

Perhaps that is why the Communist world has seen fit to throw out personal liberty and Christian teachings at the same time. The two don't go together.

There is much to be learned from a reading of history but who reads it?

Bulletin Bows Out

BY T. W. PUE

According to the Saturday, January 20th issue of the Edmonton Bulletin, business in the newspaper line is so good the old paper can't stay in business. With two high-speed presses, each capable of turning out a daily newspaper, the management finds themselves short of equipment. With greatly increased revenue in advertising and circulation, they find it impossible to carry on, and so the 70-year-old paper is "folded", out of business. There are 179 employees affected by the sudden change.

Never too reasonable, and often illogical in their thinking, this last announcement by the editors of the Bulletin is downright unbelievable to the average person. I think, though that there is a logical explanation.

The Edmonton Journal is immediately taking over the circulation of the Bulletin. Is this a sell-out to the Southern interests, to enable the Journal to dominate the Edmonton daily newspaper field?

Although the announcement of this had not been made up to the end of last week, don't be surprised if the Journal now takes possession of the equipment and stock-in-trade of the Bulletin to positively eliminate all competition.

Being publishers of the only daily newspaper in an area so huge as Northern Alberta, and in a city of 160,000 population poses a tremendous issue in discussion of public affairs. Henceforth there is no daily newspaper to contradict the Southern paper. It is therefore up to the weekly press, to keep alive and awake to public issues.

Although I've always considered the Southern Press fair and reasonable in their editorial columns, the editors are still human, and we accept the challenge presented to us of voicing the "other side" of questions where such airing in the press is warranted.

THE SWAMP FIRES

I was in Newbrook and Waskatenau last September when the swamp fires made the old-fashioned forest fire look like a burnt out match. The Alberta sun was blotted out by smoke. Even in Michigan, Alberta smoke was causing the sun to cast a weird light over the Midwest area.

At Pontiac, Michigan, a reporter, trying to catch up on his work, sat in an empty newspaper office that Sunday afternoon. Phone calls from residents seeking details on the eerie phenomenon kept interrupting him.

Growing more and more irritated, the reporter grabbed the receiver of a jingling phone. A woman inquired:

"What's happening? Is the world coming to an end?"

"I don't know, lady," barked the reporter. "The religious editor isn't here today!"

GIRL FRIEND

I must confide with my readers details of a very beautiful friendship I have nurtured with a member of the opposite sex. She's a pretty little cutie, good looking and a good talker. She likes to go driving with me, and when she's around there's never a dull moment.

Now, the fact I have a definite attachment for this young lady is no reflection on Mrs. Pue's qualities as a wife and mother. I wouldn't be so rash as to utter "I love my wife—but oh you kid!" And Judy wouldn't expect it of me. She's quite happy to have me call around just occasionally, whenever I'm in Smoky Lake.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Romanchuk, aren't really worried about Judy's future. But I'll bet the boys will go crazy over her when she's sweet sixteen! That'll be in 1962.

By the way—Mrs. Romanchuk does an excellent job of editing the Smoky Lake Gazette, in addition to a full time teaching job at the new, modern public school in Smoky Lake. Mr. Romanchuk is district superintendent of Canadian Oil in Northern Alberta.

FOUR MEN ON A TRAIN

Last Tuesday morning the train from Smoky Lake to Edmonton was packed. Children from rural Alberta were returning to the Edmonton Industrial Indian School. A fiddle and a guitar mingled with happy voices in song, made the railroad coach a happy place. The friendly group of Indian children munched on candies and other treats, freely exchanging and swapping with each other.

Four men on the train were enjoying the contents of a bottle, passing from one to the other.

Three of these men made frequent trips to the back of the coach, stealing furtive glances at the rear entrance. As the train approached the Edmonton depot they became apprehensive. Were they expected? Would somebody be there to meet them? Someone was there to greet them. Three uniformed R.C.M.P. officers boarded the car as it ground to a stop opposite the depot. They allowed everyone to leave except the three drinkers.

It seems there was the little matter of a bank robbery earlier up the line at Bonnyville...

DON'T LET THIS HAPPEN TO YOU!

Change gears before crossing

This motoring family was lucky enough to escape death, but the family sedan is headed for the scrap heap. Stalling in the path of oncoming trains will cause many serious accidents this year. Take crossings slowly, after a full stop, and change gears before crossing.

Forget God?

Dear Sir—I must write a piece to be printed in the Voice of the People. But first I want to say how much it means to have a man for the editor who believes in Jesus Christ our Saviour.

Too many people have forgotten God and that is why it is in the state it's in today. Print this to your own good knowledge and let us have some more Godly articles.

Word of God

Dear Sir—Congratulations on a splendid little paper.

I'm afraid Mr. Nixon of Forestburg is rather unreliable as far as quoting scripture, and can scarcely be regarded as an authority.

I think Mr. Nixon had better look to the word of God in the future rather than depend upon some weak-kneed Pharisee who will be cast into the darkness along with the hypocrites, unless he mends his ways.

Red Cross Hospital to Serve Alberta's Crippled Children

A dream in brick and concrete, tile and glass will come true March 3 when the new Alberta Red Cross Crippled Children's hospital in Calgary formally opens its doors to Alberta's crippled children.

For 12 years, ever since the present hospital was found to be too small, the men and women of Alberta have envisioned an adequate hospital for their crippled youngsters. The new red brick building standing on the highest hilltop in Calgary is the result of their work and courage, for they have given nearly one million dollars to its construction.

In modern style, and employing all the modern tricks of capturing the most air and sunlight, the new four-floor hospital is shaped like an enormous "V" with wide-spread and welcoming arms.

It is built on land donated tax free by the City of Calgary, which has been home of the Red Cross work for crippled children since 1922.

This spring the grounds will be landscaped and seeded, to give the children even more beautiful surroundings.

The new hospital will officially accommodate 119 patients, with room for 30 more in emergency. Medical treatment is given for club foot, tubercular bone conditions, osteomyelitis, convalescence and deformities from infantile paralysis, congenital dislocation of the hip, malunited fractures and contractions following burns, sarcoma, coeliac disease, spinal curvatures, spastic haemiplegia and spina bifida.

SPECIAL CLINICS

Children from all over Alberta, the Northwest Territories and Peace River Block, whose parents cannot afford prolonged orthopaedic care, are welcome to the hospital. For those who do not need hospitalization, there is the Out-Patients' Clinic where parents are instructed to care for the child, and where needed braces and splints are fitted. More than 7,000 children have been treated so far at the hospital.

Every angle has been considered in the inside equipping and decorating of the hospital. Pastel walls and acoustic tile ceilings take the place of the old-time "hospital white." The wards are furnished for the convenience and comfort of both patients and nurses; the school rooms are equipped for comfortable study; the handicraft rooms and the gym-

ALTA. ON GUARD AGAINST 'FLU

Alberta is being guarded against an outbreak here of England's influenza epidemic and there is little danger of it reaching here unless by direct contact, Dr. Norman Baster, Director of communicable diseases, stated Monday.

He stated that an arrangement has been made through which types of influenza discovered in Alberta can be identified and compared with the type striking sections of England.

Dr. Baster said there is no evidence that the present wave of influenza is related to the epidemic that swept the world in 1918. Most health authorities attribute the heavy death toll in the current English outbreak to after-effects mainly bronchial pneumonia which has been striking elderly persons.

The communicable diseases director for the province offered simple advice to Albertans desiring to guard against colds and influenza.

Saying that there was no grounds for worrying about a wave of influenza here, he advised citizens to avoid becoming overtired, to avoid crowds, to stay home in bed when colds strike, and to consult doctors when necessary.

nasium are based on functional design.

From the modern kitchens on the ground floor to the sterile and completely-equipped operating rooms on the second floor and the open solarium on the roof, the New Alberta Red Cross Crippled Children's Hospital is indeed a "dream" hospital.

Visitors who wish to tour the new structure are welcome at all times for it is Alberta's hospital with one object in mind, to make the "lame to walk" among Alberta's children.

FUA To Discuss Fate Of Two 'Red' Directors

The strife-torn Farmers' Union of Alberta will soon know the fate of two union executives branded as "Communist".

Executive of the FUA will meet at the end of this month to discuss expulsion of F. E. Maricle, Hamlin, and Ray Garneau, Wainwright, who have been asked to resign because of pro-communist attitudes.

They have both refused to resign.

Maricle recently attended the World Peace Congress in Warsaw. At the time, directors said they deplored the spectacle of an FUA executive "lending himself and his talents to a Communist-inspired, so-called peace congress."

Maricle spoke in Edmonton recently at a public meeting sponsored by the Edmonton Peace Council.

Maricle said the failure of Canada to recognize the Communist regime in China is acting as a barrier to World Peace and spoke of highlights of the World Peace Congress and its discussion of the problems in Germany and Korea.

Many of the audience signed petitions following the meeting, asking that Canada give official recognition to the Chinese Communist government.

The petitions will be mailed to Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, the petitioners said.

Right to vote in Canada's federal elections is conferred on all British subjects 21 years of age or older who have resided in Canada for 12 months prior to polling day.

Seed Growers Urge Farmers To Sow Good Seed This Year

That's a suggestion from the Alberta Branch of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association. It's a good suggestion that has the support of all good farmers and agriculturists throughout the province.

Clean, pure, sound, viable seed has the best chance of producing a profitable crop; weak, mixed, poorly cleaned seed has the poorest chance.

Farmers should ensure themselves against a poor stand this season by planting the kind of seed they'll be proud to harvest. If there's any doubt about the quality of grain, farmers should see their District Agriculturist or elevator agent. Sow good seed for better crops this year.

The common cold can result in decreased hearing.

Ladies' Aid Plans Spring Tea and Bazaar Later

A shower for Miss Geneva Rude, a bride-elect of this month, was held at the home of Mrs. George Lawley, with everyone welcome.

A large group of ladies enjoyed the evening. Miss Rude received a beautiful array of gifts from all her many friends and neighbors. A delicious lunch was served by her hosts.

The oil well drilling officially ended this week, with the rig moved out another point. It is a keen disappointment to all our citizens as we would like to see our community develop, as so many others have. Oh, well—better luck next time.

Edmonton visitors this week included Mrs. and Mrs. Brunles, Mrs. Poirier, Mrs. Provost, Mr. and Mrs. H. St. Louis, Mrs. H. Richardson, Mrs. E. Boucher.

We have still a few cases of mumps in our community. We hope all who were unfortunate enough to have them will soon be well again.

Mrs. Granger, a sister of Mrs. E. Boucher, is visiting in Picardville, a guest of Mrs. Boucher.

Mrs. Brunles and Mrs. Richardson were recent patients at the Edmonton dentist.

The local Board of Trade meets this Friday at 8:30. Please attend.

LETTER TO LOUISA

Mother Objects to Daughter Going Out With Boy Friend

DEAR LOUISA — I am a girl of 18, and my mother disagrees with me going out with the boy I'm going with.

We have been going together since last June. I hate leaving him as I have no reason. We like each other a lot, but mother has always tried to break us up.

What shall I do? Should I listen to her objections, or should I keep on going around with him?

Is it up to a mother to pick a boy friend for her daughter?

PUZZLED.

Answer:

No, "Puzzled," I certainly wouldn't say that it is up to a mother to select her daughter's boy friend. But your mother might have very sensible reasons for objecting to this particular boy.

It is difficult to give you practical advice when I do not know your boy friend. Perhaps your mother is unjustified in her objections, but she may have very good reasons for all I know. One thing is definite—your mother undoubtedly has your best interests at heart—and in objecting to your boy friend she must feel you will be better off without him.

My advice to you would be to try and find out exactly why she objects to this young man. If you can do that, your problem offer any resistance?"

Answer: "Only one buck, and I wouldn't take it."

may be a whole lot less puzzling. Once you find out her real reasons, you will have to decide for yourself whether she is justified in her objections, and then act accordingly.

LOUISA.

Question:

I was engaged to a young man for over a year. Having broken up over another man should I return his diamond ring and other expensive presents?

WORRIED.

Answer:

Yes, his ring should be returned to him... the ring is the symbol of an agreement to marry. An offer to return any large or expensive gift is also the accepted thing to do.

Prosperous Times Foreseen In Alberta During Year

Industrial expansion may set new records in Alberta during 1951, according to government experts who foresee widespread development of natural resources during the year.

Oil, agriculture, lumbering, and manufacturing face bright prospects for the future.

Agriculture will receive a tremendous boost throughout the southern portion of the province with the completion of a vast irrigation scheme now underway.

The boost to agriculture will stimulate the whole economy of Alberta.

In the central Alberta, oil development is continuing apace.

In the far north of the province, development of the huge oil sands deposits around McMurray may actually get underway by the end of the year.

The lumbering industry will also make major contributions to Alberta's prosperity. One new project now being launched is a $13,000,000 pulp and paper mill outside Edmonton.

A new kind of industry may become established here this year if plans of Swedish industrialists to launch a manufacturing plant to make a new type of building wood, 'Stranit,' materialize.

All in all, a prosperous and progressive year is expected in the Foothills province.

of more than 20 miles of roadway in the district will be undertaken as soon as snow clears in the spring the Board was advised. Seed for this purpose was received from the Department of Agriculture last fall but arrived too late to have the seeding undertaken before the snow fell.

Effort will be made by the Board to have all roads in the area back sloped during the coming year. Co-operation will be required from farmers in the district as the job necessitates temporary removal of fences.

Three farms in the district which have been under the control of the Board for several years for rehabilitation purposes under the Service Boards Act were released from supervision by the Board after reports were received from Walter Ellwett, Field Supervisor, that they had returned to the condition desired. On several other properties in the area including a property badly polluted by thistle, the Board decided to extend supervision for another year before considering action.

District Agriculturist Fontaine spoke on the apparent scarcity of some foreign crop seed as well as the price increase in some cases. It was felt that the seed should be handled by the Morinville Municipal Seed Cleaning Co-op. Ltd. for distribution as last year; that a price list be requested from all the dealers in this regards as well as from the Seed Growers' Association.

Forms as received by Walter Van De Walle, member of the Board, were shown to the members. Mr. Van De Walle advised the Board that he had eight or nine applications completed for tree planting and also notified the Board of the work being done to further inaugurate this program. The Board decided on the motion of Stanley M. Walker that all completed forms be forwarded to the District Agriculturist in order that the orders for the trees requested may be placed in the proper channels for delivery when required.

Letter dated December 13th, 1950 from J. E. Birdsall, Supervisor Crop Improvement Service and Secretary of the Alberta Branch of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association, was read to the Council. This was in regards to the good seed wheat program recommended by the Alberta Branch of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association. The co-operation of the Field Supervisor and the Service Board in carrying out the program was requested and the growers would welcome suggestions from them as to how it may be improved.

It was decided on a motion by John Schafers that we co-operate in this regards through our Field Supervisor.

CYO NEWS

St. Albert Is Active Group

By HELEN LUSZCZEWSKI

ST. ALBERT — Our first event of the year, namely our Communion Breakfast, was very successful. About 35 members were present. Following a delicious breakfast, served by the Ladies of the Altar Society, speeches were given by Father Labonte, Mr. Blair and Andrew Morin. We were especially impressed by the inspiring talk our guest of honor, Mr. Blair, gave us. Only an inkling will be given to you in Mr. Blair's own words, for the sake of those who were not present:

"To me the name CYO suggests a group of young Christian people banded together with a common purpose and working in closest possible unity and harmony to achieve an end. In the CYO the greatest privilege should be the atmosphere of Christianity which acts as a coat of armor for the protection of the soul, which, after all, is our first consideration."

Our meeting held that evening was fairly well attended. After our general meeting, we were favored with another guest speaker, Mr. L. Byers of Mearns, who gave us an interesting account of his trip to Rome. Both members and parents who attended appreciated hearing Mr. Byers. Following this, games were played and lunch was served in a round-table fashion.

Don't forget to attend the Deanery Social scheduled for Sunday, Jan. 28. Various CYO's have been invited and everyone should be treated to a memorable evening, comprised of a skating party followed by a dance at which our CYO orchestra will play. See you all with your skating togs and silver blades at 8:30 p.m., eh? Hockey has been in full swing. Though the boys have not had any breaks lately, everyone is enjoying themselves immensely.

Our latest project, namely our play, has been chosen. It is a three-act mystery, "Spooky Tavern." Particulars as to the date of audition will be given as soon as preparations for practices are made.

Basketball hoops have been put up and teams will soon be formed in order to get the game started.
